

Pick your sessions! Meet the experts who will be speaking and know your sessions when you register for Grow.

1) Share Your Story - Blogger Panel

Cristen Clark

The FoodandSwine.com blog shares fabulous recipes and pig stories. Cristen Clark has been involved with various blogger tours and is raising her family on her Iowa farm.

Shannon Latham

Shannon Latham is the Vice President of Latham Hi-Tech Seeds and share her blogs at TheFieldPosition.com, EnchantedAcresIA.com, and through Common Ground.

Crystal Blin

This ag girl has a love for hereford cattle and the color turquoise, which she shares on her blog CrystalCattle.com. The Alberta, Canada native now resides on a farm in Iowa.

2) The Power of STEM Panel

Cassie Edgar

As the Associate General Counsel, IP for Genus, Cassie Edgar has years of experience in work place. She holds a B.S. in Molecular Genetics, a M.S. and obtained her law degree.

Lora Leigh Chrystal

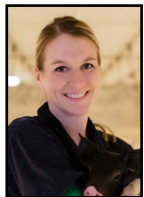

As Director of the Program for Women in Science and Engineering at Iowa State, Lora Leigh Chrystal is committed to increasing the number of women in the STEM workforce.

Mary Wiedenhoef

Mary Wiedenhoef is an agronomy professor at Iowa State University. She will give tips on how to successfully "grow" yourself in the agriculture industry.

3) Do What You Love - Farmer Panel

Erin Brenneman

Growing up in the city, Erin Brenneman never thought she would end up working on a farm. She is now one of the best advocates for the swine industry.

Linda Naeve

This horticulture extraordinaire works for Iowa State University Extension and runs a small scale commercial vegetable farm with her husband.

April Hemmes

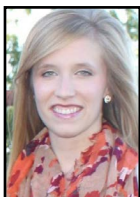

April Hemmes farms her family's century farm in North Central Iowa. She also stays busy with many organizations developing the future of agriculture.

4) Capture the Moment - FarmHer

Marji Guyler-Alaniz

Marji Guyler-Alaniz is the founder and president of FarmHer. She excels at many things, including photography, managing a business and raising her children.

Carly Cummings

As the program coordinator for the Agriculture Entrepreneurship Initiative at Iowa State, Carly Cummings has great experiences and plenty of knowledge to share.

5) Going Global - International Ag Perspective and Policy

Dana Brooks

Dana Brooks joined Land O'Lakes in May as Senior Director of Government Relations. She has spent nearly 15 years working in Washington D.C. representing agriculture interests.

Sign up for two sessions when you purchase tickets.